

ICOMain.io Complimentary Consultation Terms of Service

1 OBJECTIVES

To offer preliminary ICO advisory to all clients specific to their ICO's intended business model, token economics, whitepaper, and other such components related to their token sale.

2 PERIOD OF SERVICE

ICOMain.io's complimentary consultation service shall take place over a single session.

3 PROPOSED SERVICES

3.1. Business Advisory

ICOMain.io will conduct a thorough assessment of the client's existing business model and offer advice with regards to the client's overall business direction, token utility, token sale timeline, legal framework and team structure.

3.2. Token Economics Review

Based on their experience and expertise, ICOMain.io will assess client's overall token sale structure and may provide relevant suggestions on elements related to token economics. This may include a review of the client's token structure including components such as token supply distribution and use of proceeds.

3.3. Whitepaper Review (If Applicable)

ICOMain.io will conduct a comprehensive review of the client's existing whitepaper to determine if it adheres to industry best practices and is written in a manner that not only elevates the client's unique selling points, but also clearly illustrates other critical token sale elements required for a high-quality whitepaper. This review will be accompanied by a written report of the client's existing whitepaper.

3.4. Whitepaper Advisory (If Applicable)

Based on the business model and token economics advisory conducted prior, ICOMain.io will provide personalized guidelines and content structuring advice for the client's whitepaper that is intended to aid the client in drafting a professional whitepaper that not only elevates the client's unique selling points, but also clearly illustrates other critical token sale elements required for a high-quality whitepaper.

4 TERMS OF SERVICE

4.1. Listing of the Client in ICOMain.io Website

The client's company logo and short description may be added to the ICOMain.io website as part of ICOMain.io's work portfolio. This may include a summary of the advisory services rendered for the client during the preliminary consultation session which includes business and token economics advisory as well as a whitepaper review (if applicable). The client's brand may also be used as part of ICOMain.io's marketing which includes social media posts and news/media publications.

4.2. Listing of ICOMain.io in the Client's Website & Whitepaper

The Client shall list ICOMain.io as an advisory partner in both their website and their whitepaper. Where possible, this includes a short description of the advisory services rendered for the client during the preliminary consultation session which includes business and token economics advisory as well as a whitepaper review (if applicable).
